RU DOWN 4 THE GAME! NO I UP 4 THE RIDE!

MATT FURIE
2007 SAN FRANCISCO

dedicated to AIYANA UDESEN

Thanks god, mom, dad, bro, friends, fam, archie, olivia, the LAB, artists, + every rider who participated.

hey gang! so when archie asked me to ride along with him in the cab and do an art project i had an idea to dress like a sloth and move around slowly while people went from A to B but that was too hard so i decided to drive around and draw in the seat next to archie and it made me feel sick and i almost barfed so i asked archie to pull into a walgreens so i could get some couple of dudes from boston en route to spider man 3 at the imax. the guy filling in the bubble said he was a 'dental recycler' for a living. his dad ran the business "back east". he said he went to art school here in S.f. and studied printmaking but it didn't pay the bills.

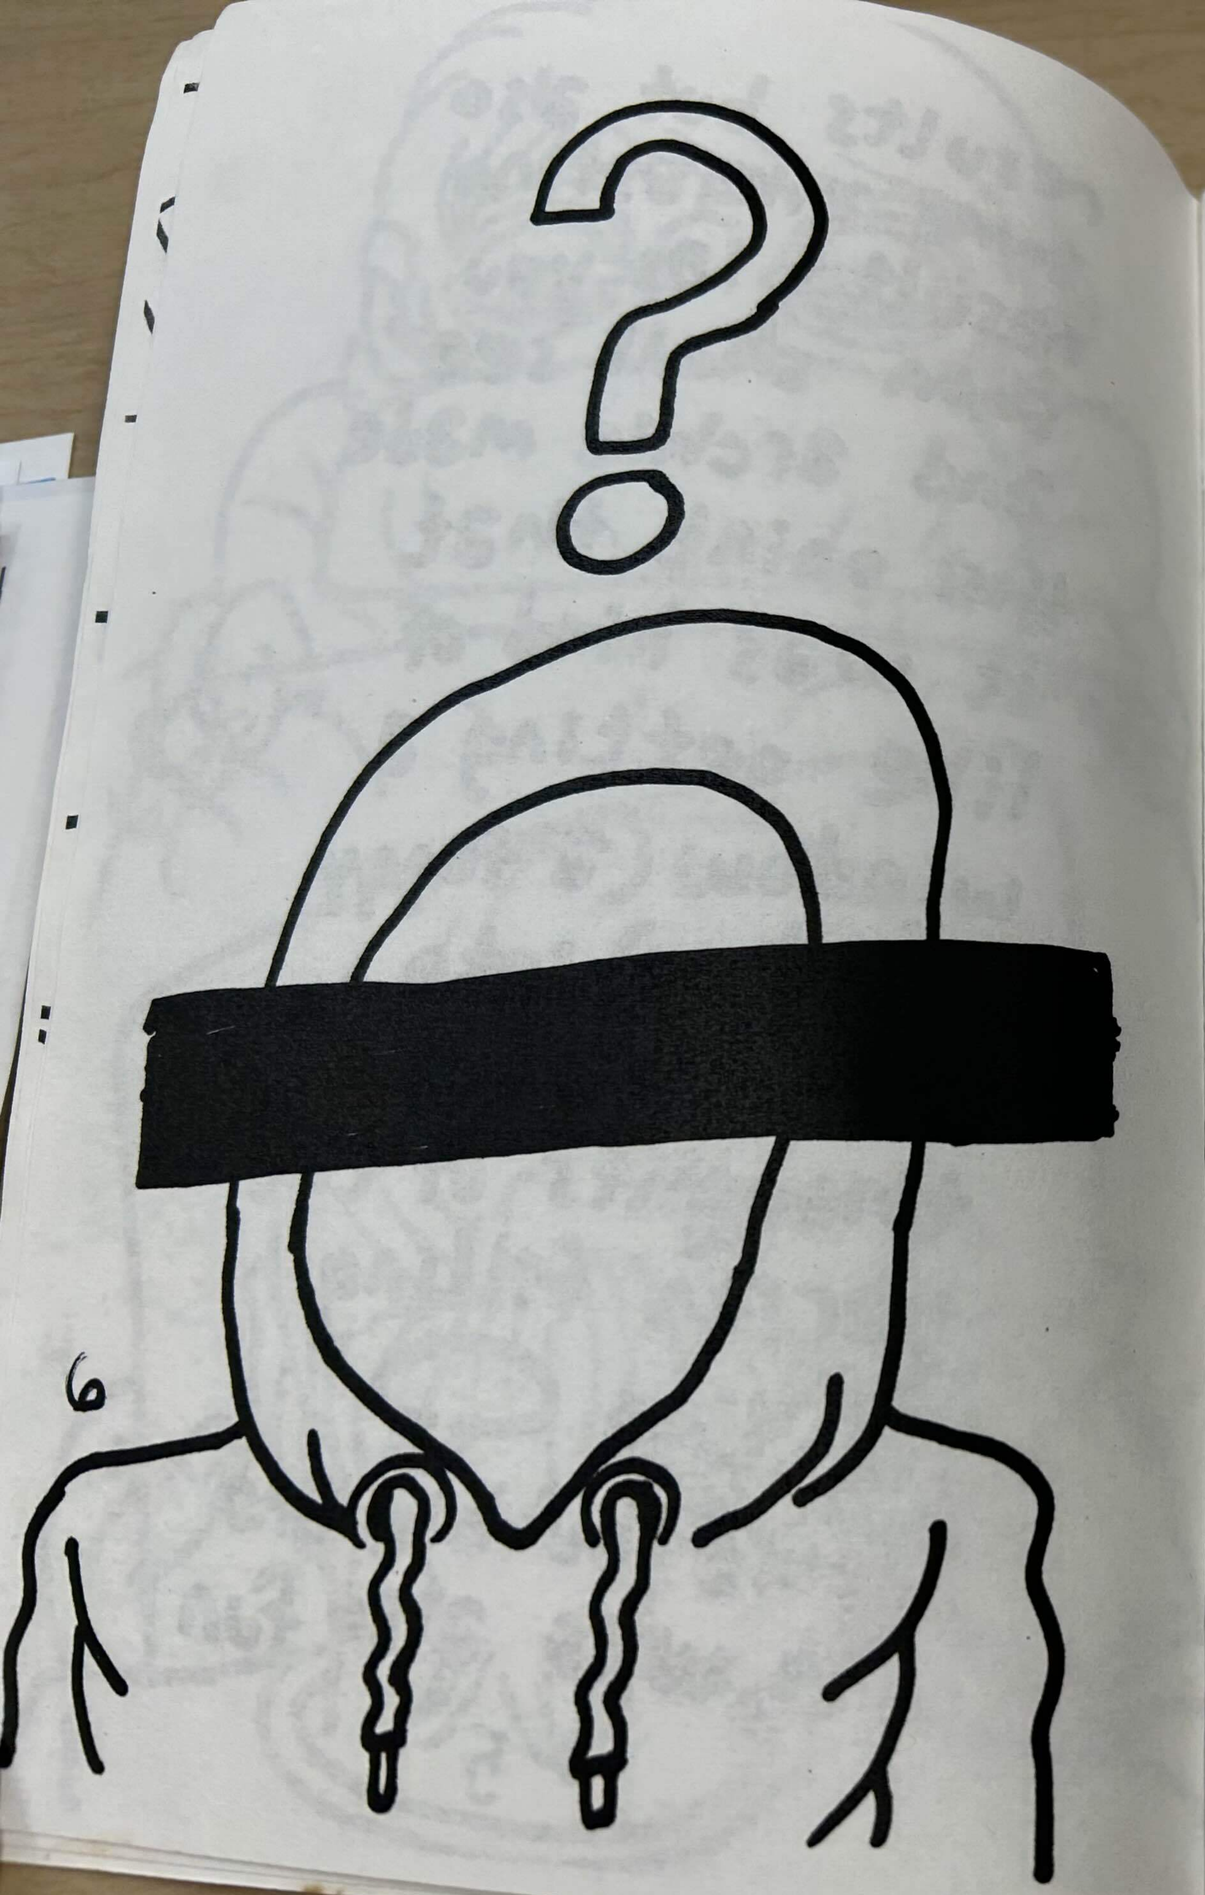
two men - both from czech-rep.

man who filled in words said it reminded him of "the story that never ends" i said he was on the right track - great work gentlemen!



because san francisco is really beautiful and a lot like a roller-coaster and the city at night is exciting and at any moment some random person just hopped right in!

results but also some interesting results as you soon shall see and archie made the point that it was kind of like getting a window (a foggy window) into the mind and thoughts of the person filling in the word bubble and it was also fun motion-sickness pills so he did and it helped but also the 2-3 bottles (small) of jim beam helped too so anyways we drove around and I drew random stuff and gave the stuff word bubbles that were left blank so the customer-riders could fill them in with whatever they wanted and we got some [redacted] ok nice gentleman leaving 'aunt charlies' bar and returning to his place in the castro district.

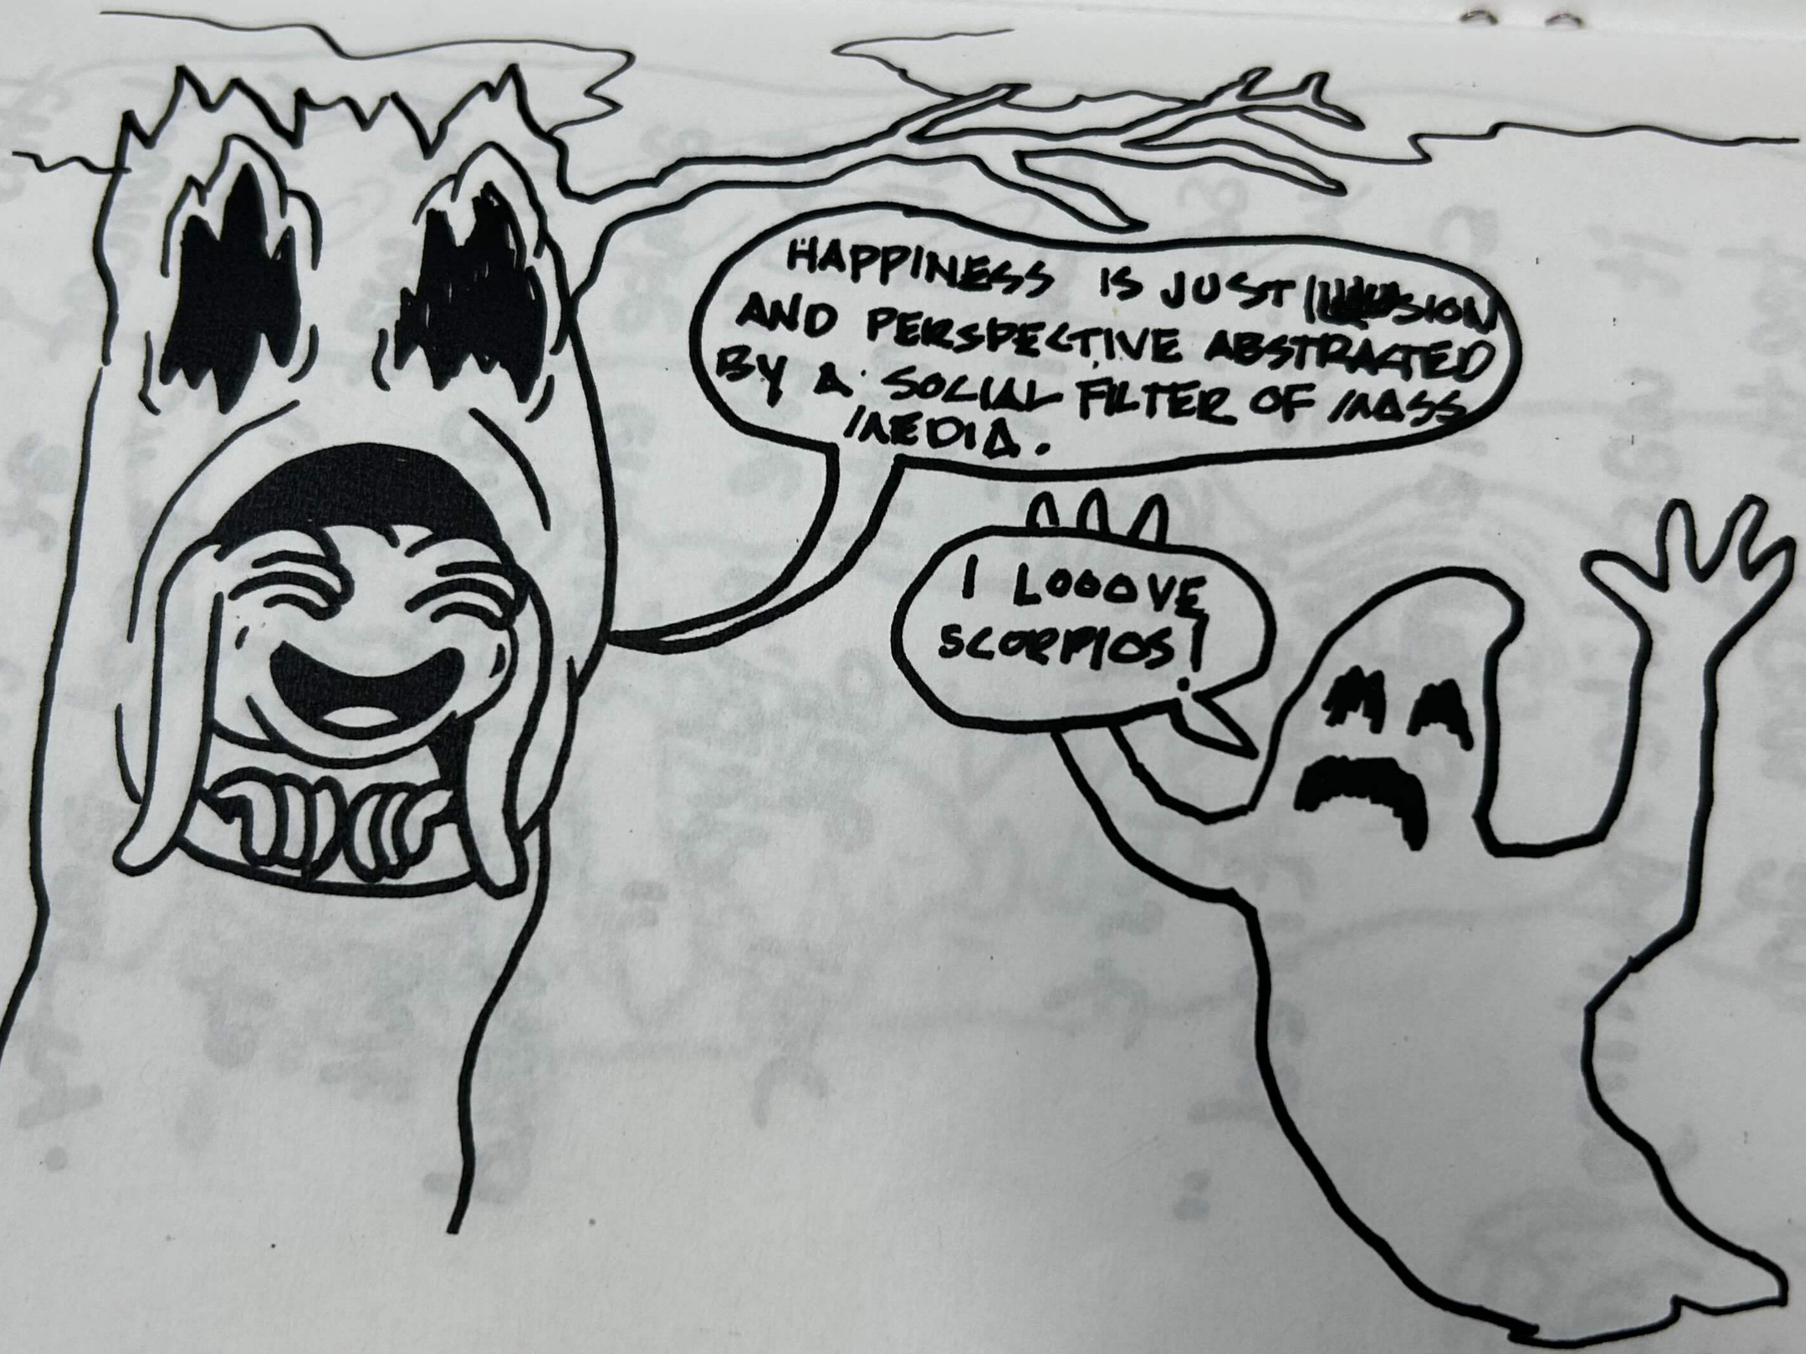
this guy was nice i rich.

this guy was a stenographer (a courtroom trascriber) so we asked him to write something in 'steno'.

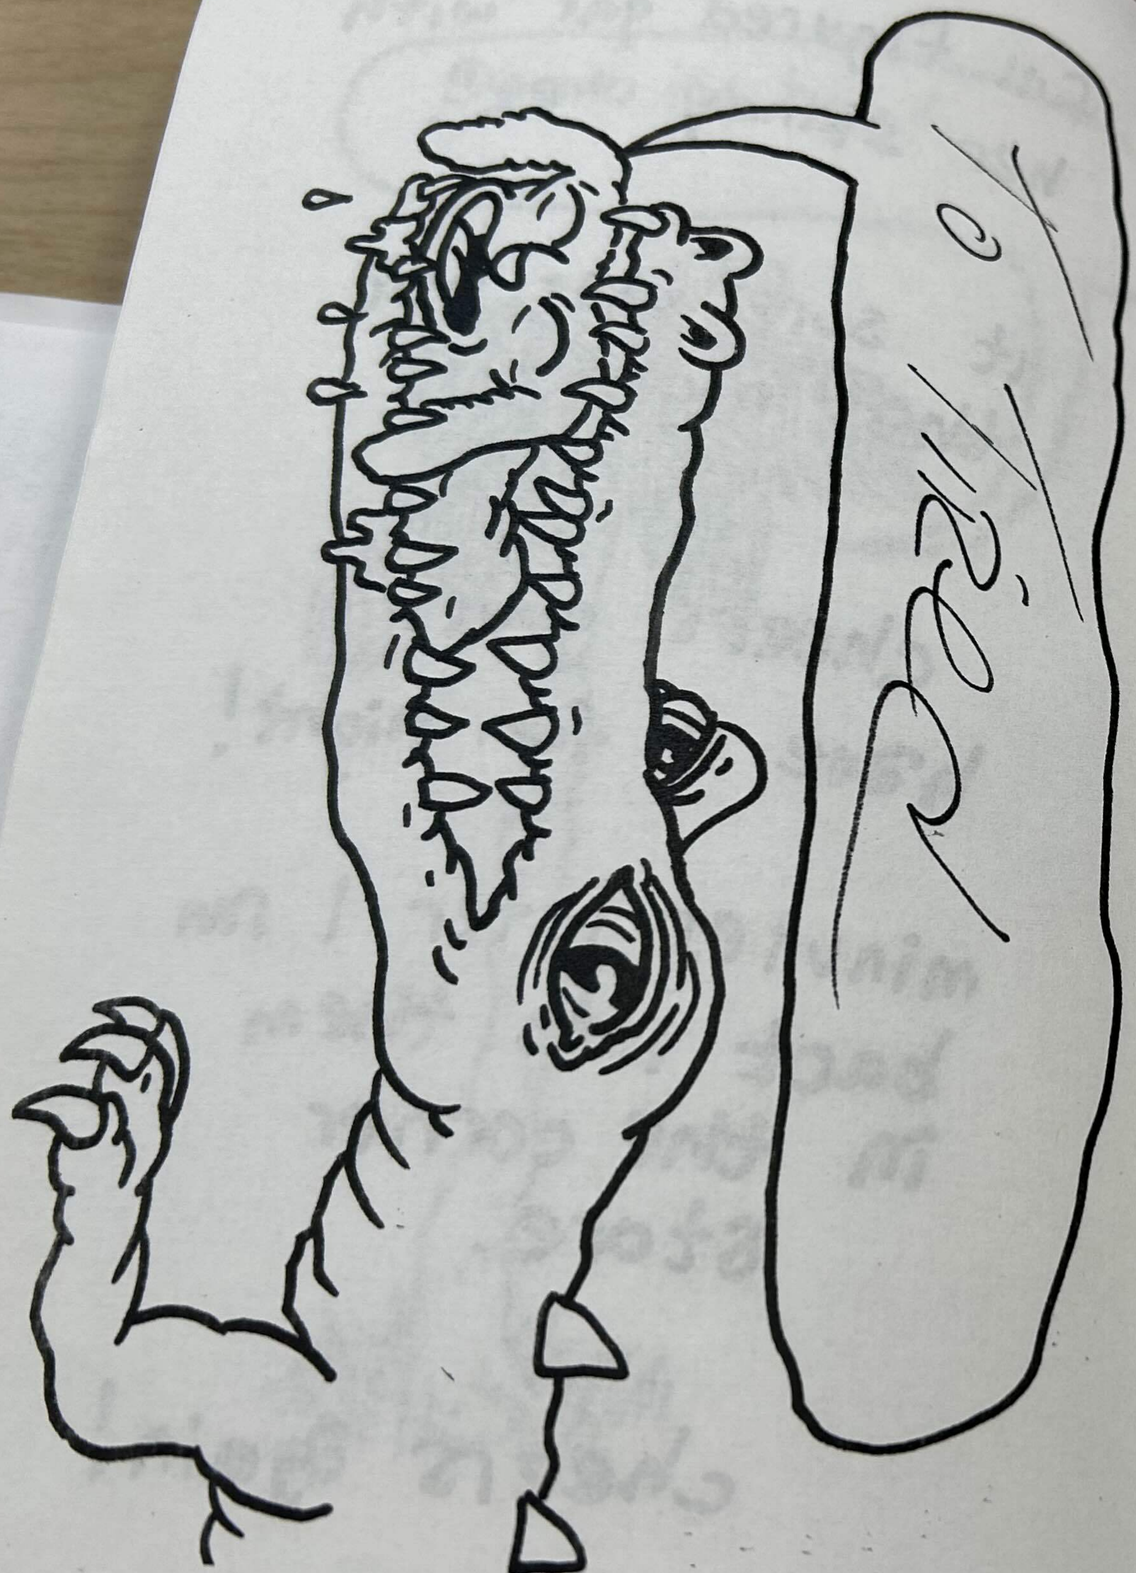
it says:

"it was a pleasure to ride with you"

Great job!



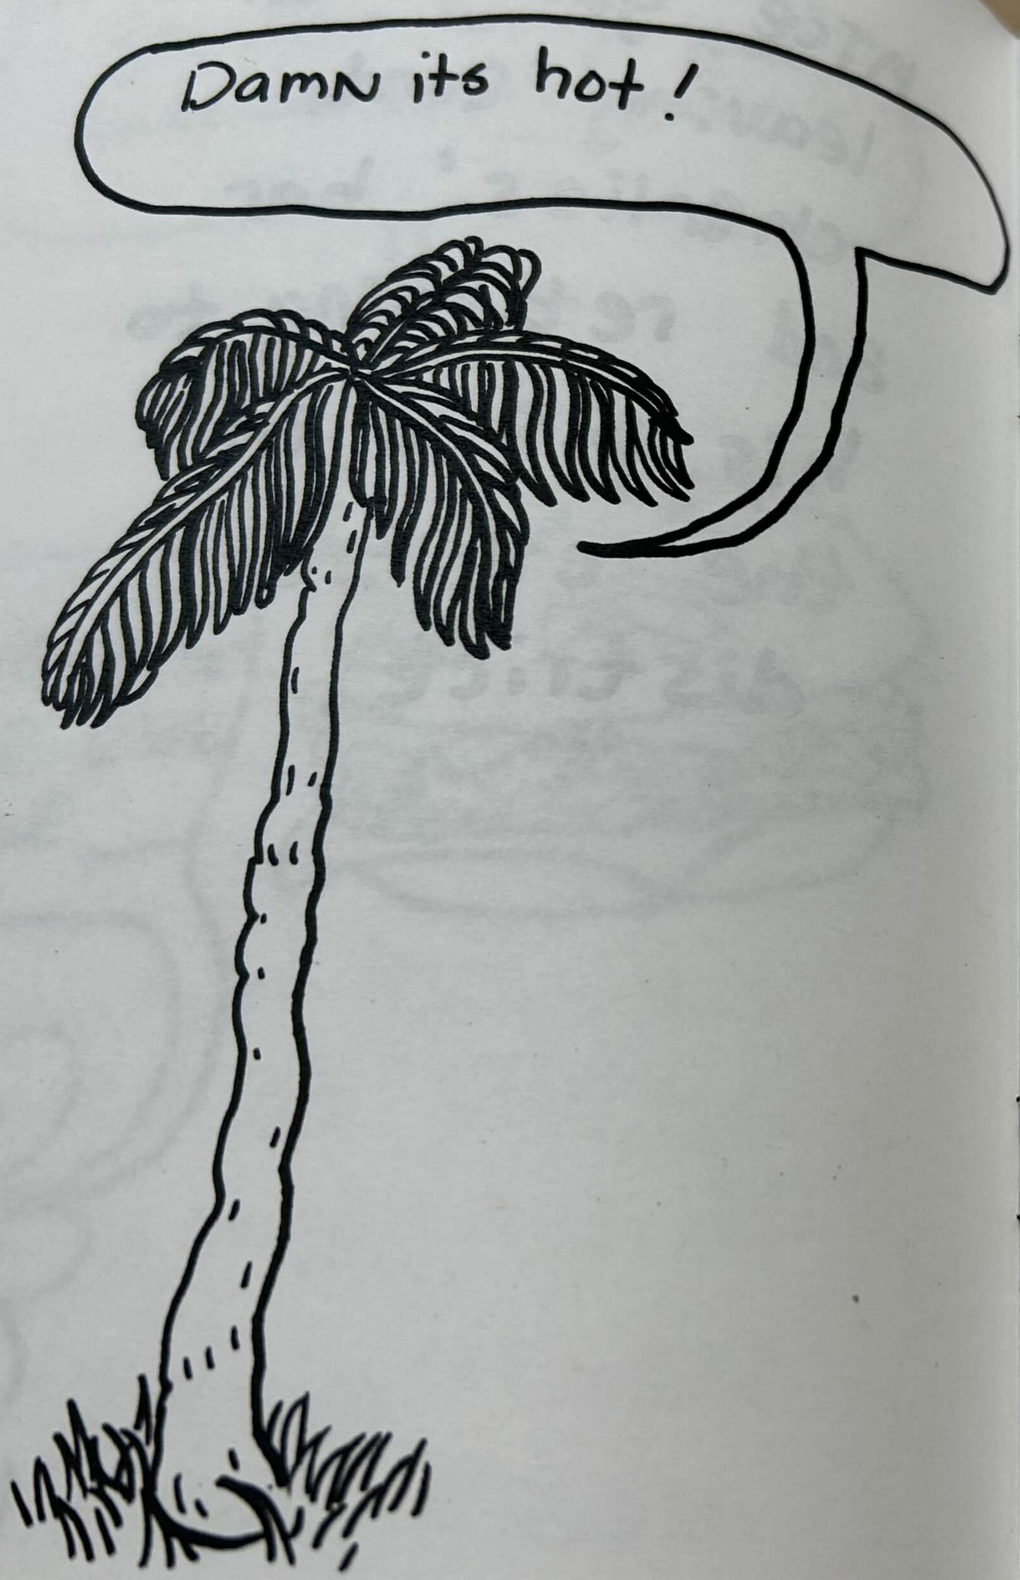
HAPPINESS IS JUST ILLUSION AND PERSPECTIVE ABSTRACTED BY A SOCIAL FILTER OF MASS MEDIA.
I LOOOVE SCORPIOS!
MA



this guy was a bouncer at the "phoenix" pool party. he was "to" tired to write anything but awake enough to head to "the endup" all-night club for a drink.

so i said just write "too tired" so he did.

it was like pulling teeth from an alligator.



full figured gal with her skinny "ex".

it sure was hot that night!

cheers guys - have a fun night!

minutes later I ran back into them in the corner store.

cheers again!

big funny guy -
nice girlfriend.

big funny guy's
words.

when archie and
i stopped at in-and-out
in north beach we were flipping thru the boot and i flipped to this page and archie
almost choked on his food cause he laughed so hard.

I drew this cause I think
I got the vibe
of dying bees
cause of cell
phones ....

different story for these two (a boy and a girl)

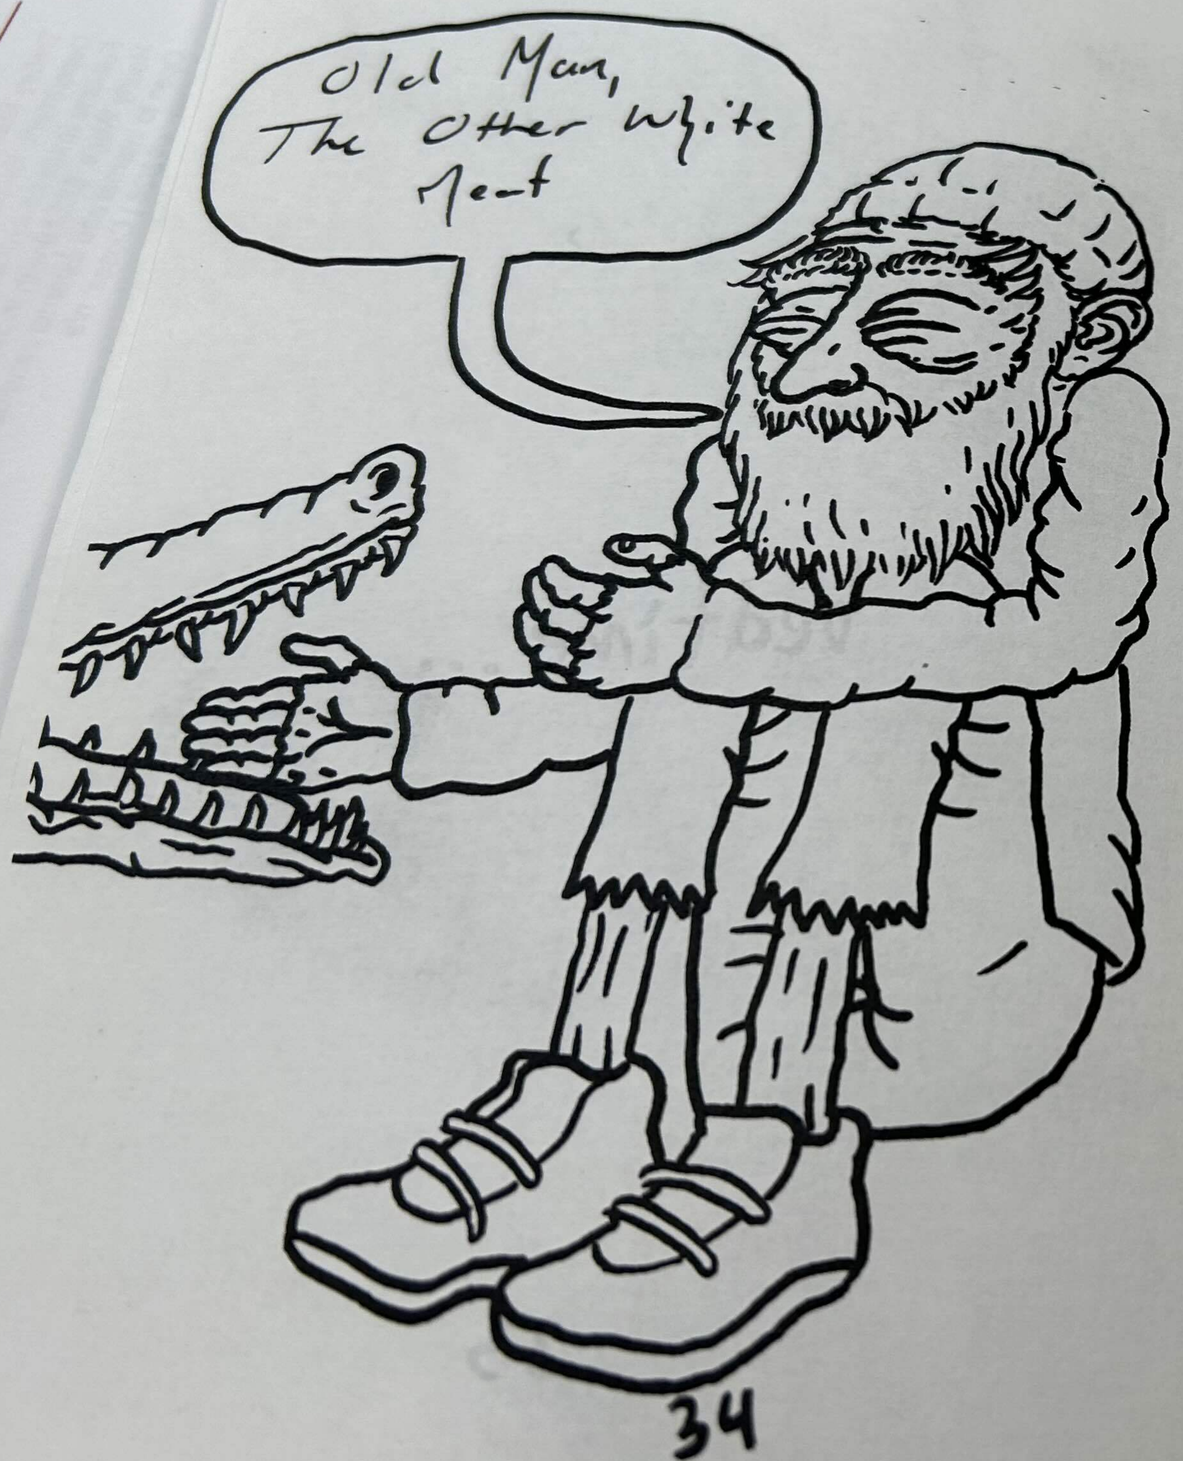
on man talk about awkward! so a couple gets in and i give the guy the pad and he really vocalizes every part of his thought-process. he was a very straight-laced type and he seemed like he wanted to teach us a lesson or something. he said that the wall had a laid-back personal

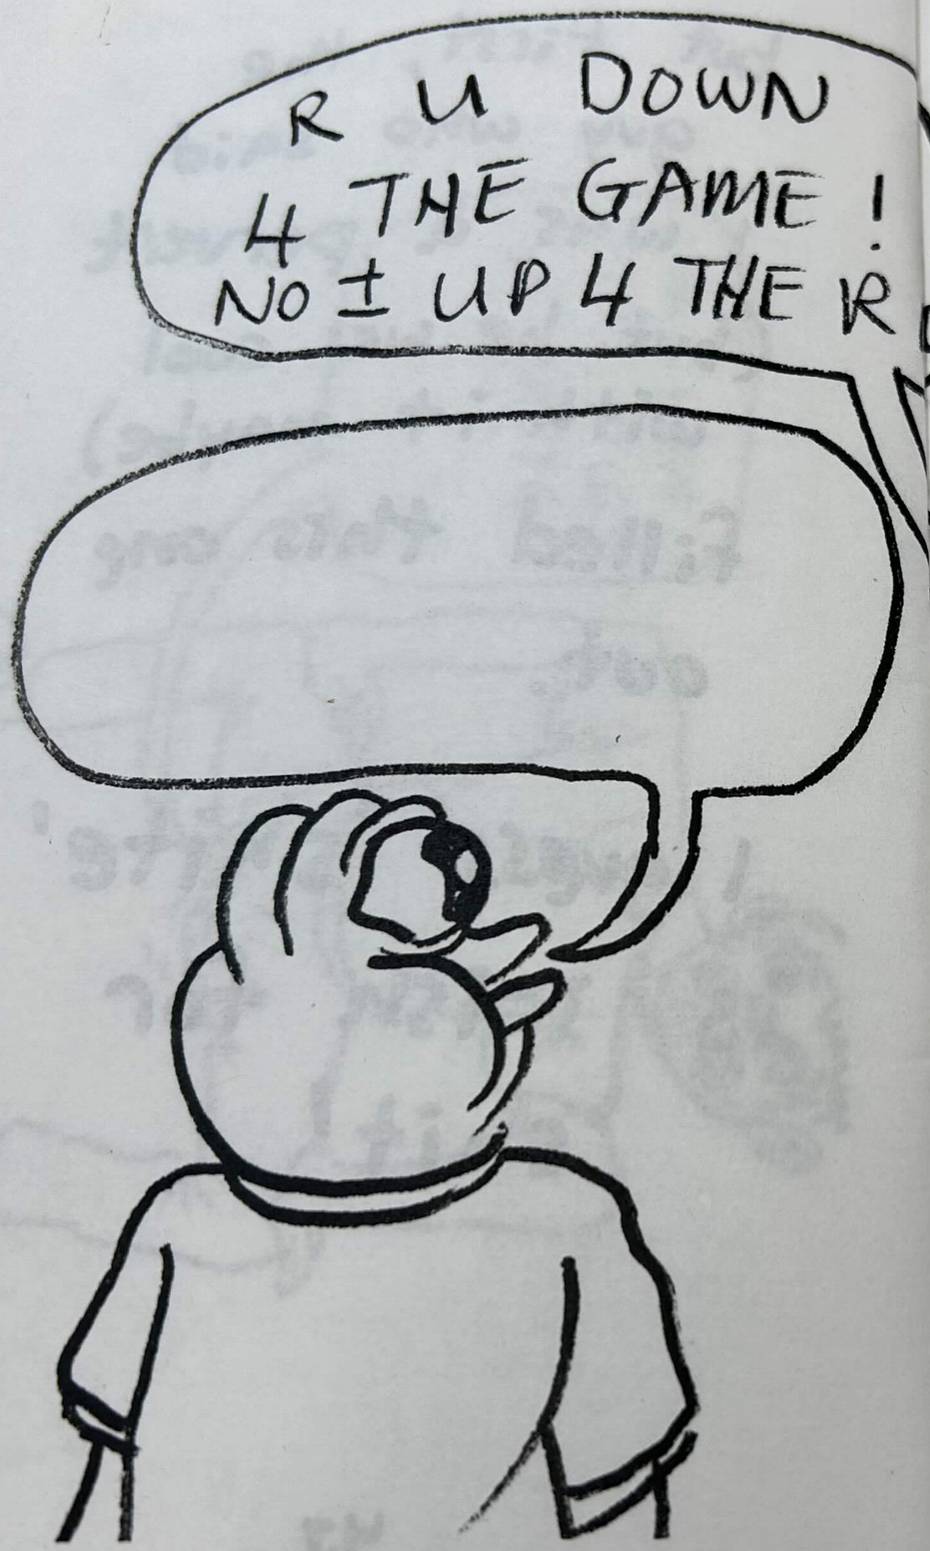


day 2:

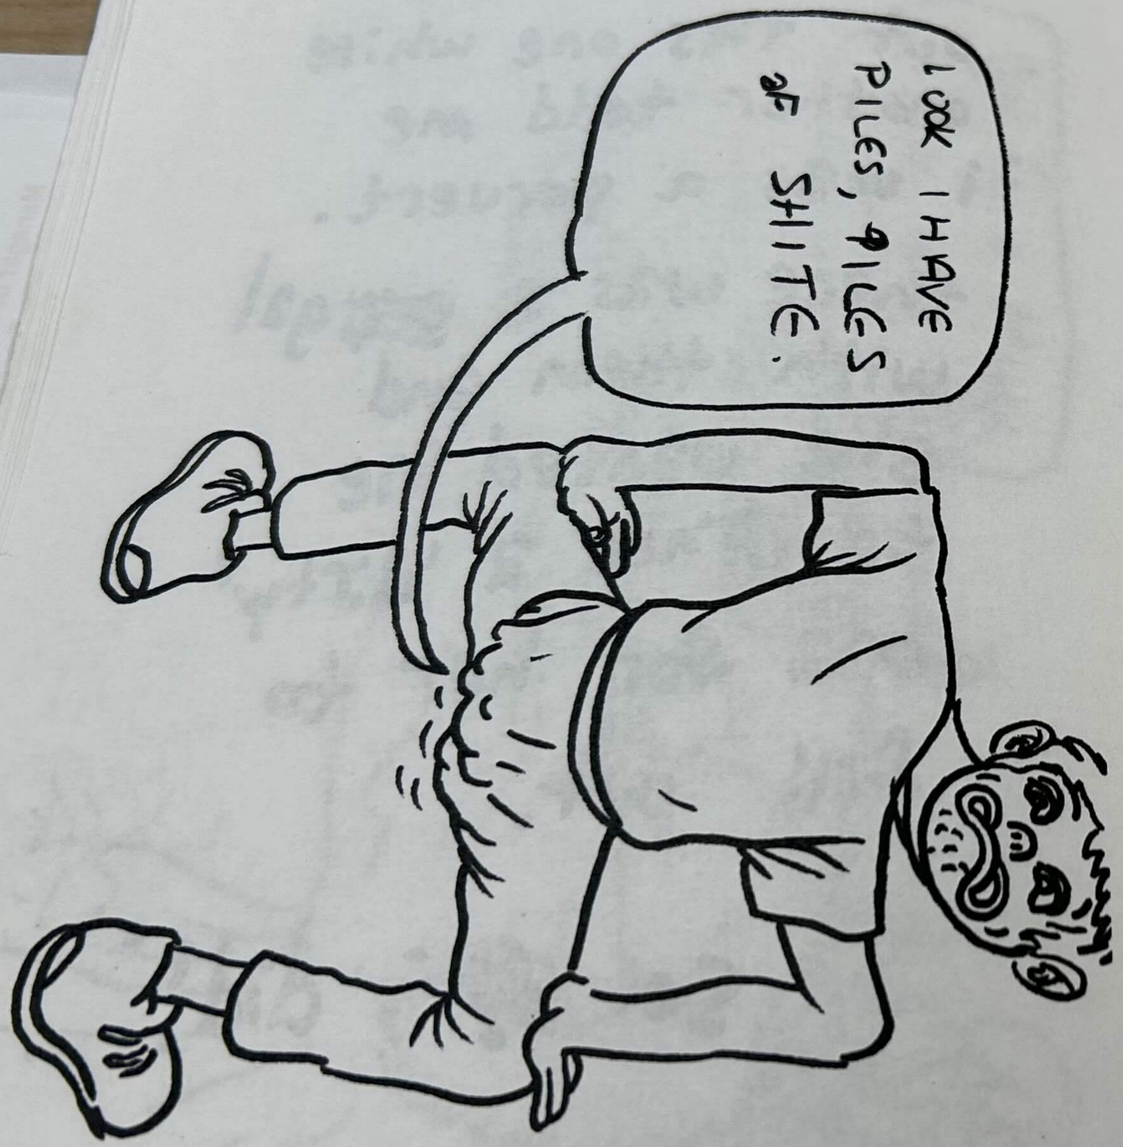
forgot who did this

but....

....



THE FIN



but first, the guy who said I was a pervert (but he was cool with it maybe) filled this one out.

I guess 'shite' is irish for 'shit'

3 really loud drunk irish folks pile in and one guy filled out this one while another told me i was a pervert.

there was a [redacted] gal with them and she wanted me to draw a 'dirty' one for her to fill out.

So [redacted] i did!

two ladies who were talking about problems they were facing organizing and curating an art show at the LGBT Center.
